About BCA

Bachelor of Computer Applications (BCA) is an undergraduate course and one of the most popular among students in the field of computer applications. BCA is a professional degree course for three years. These three years consist of six semesters of six months each with live projects at the end of the semester as an internal assessment.

FUTURE PROSPECTS AFTER BCA

Students find it easy to grab a job in this area. IT students can start their careers as junior programmers in reputed IT companies. After gaining sufficient experience, they can get into senior programmers and project managers. Apart from programming, they can go for other professions such as web designer, database user, system administrator etc.
